It is what it is

During my years of education, I have often heard, and even used, the statement "it is what it is". Meaning the issue that the conversation is discussing is out of anyone's control and it can't be changed. When this statement is made, it feels a bit like an admission of surrender and the white flag is thrown. This does not sit well with my competitive side. I want to have an influence or make some change over the issue, and often that is when I remember a concept learned during my administrative classes, "the circles of influence framework".

In the diagram to the right you'll see a demonstration of the circles of influence framework. As you can see there are levels of control or impact in this diagram. Depending on the topic, you may have direct control, influence, or no control. Often frustration comes from the outermost circle where there is no control. However, if those circles address the same issue, you do have some influence on the issue at one of the other circles.

From: <https://learningloop.io/glossary/circles-of-influence>

So how does this relate to school? I think the most control that lies in the innermost circle is the direct connection to the individuals on a day to day basis. For instance, a teacher has direct connection to the student in their classroom, a parent has direct connection to their student. However, neither have a direct control of the other...teacher to parent, or parent to teacher. However, the connection is not that far away between parent and teacher and that connection falls under the circle of influence. The most important piece to maintain the circle of influence between teacher and parent is communication. When both parties understand what each needs through communication, there is influence on those activities. The last circle in education would be areas that are out of any control of the individual, such as mandates and requirements. However, how those mandates are implemented in the school are in control at the other levels. This is often where we grow our committees. Gathering input from multiple stakeholders allows a school district to manage mandates that are outside of our control by gathering quality input from concerned individuals.

One such opportunity is coming up. Over the past few months our Board of Education Facilities Committee has been investigating another capital project. This work has been at a high level through a focus on our building condition survey that is submitted to the New York State Education Department, and previous reviews of our building. Starting at the end of March, we will be reforming our BRCS Compact Council, which consists of multiple stakeholders and interested parties for not only capital improvements, but other areas of improvement of our school. A date for the first meeting will be made shortly, but if you are interested in serving on this committee please reach out to me directly at 315-346-1211 ext. 500. I anticipate that there will be multiple meetings over the following 4-6 months. While there are particular regulations and statutes that will need to be followed, a committee like this can influence how Beaver River addresses those regulations. Then the statement can be changed from "it is what it is" to "it is what is ours".

Sincerely,

Todd G. Green, Superintendent of Schools

Got a question or Concern? Who do you contact?

Chain of Communication for Information

In the interest of promoting effective communication with our stakeholders, we have developed a checklist outlining the personnel to contact with a question and/or concern. Most often a question or concern can be answered in a face to face discussion with the individual most closely in contact with the situation. In order to facilitate the use of this checklist, when you contact office personnel you will be asked if you have contacted the staff member most immediately involved in or responsible for addressing the question or concern. If you have done so and did not receive a response or resolution, then you should proceed to the next contact (listed below).

Elementary Principal

Dear Elementary Parents and Guardians,

March in the Elementary is a busy month. The Character Counts trait is caring. To be a caring person means to be compassionate, express gratitude, forgive others, and be considerate of others' feelings. Mr. Olmstead teaches Character lessons in the classrooms and this month's focus will be about caring.

Literacy Celebration - "Beaver River Elementary School Take an Olympic Leap Into Reading!" This year the celebration is all month-long and it kicked off on February 29, 2024, with an Opening Ceremony and a Family Night. Thank you to all who attended. Every Thursday the book-mark is due recording the number of minutes read. If your child reads a minimum of 6 hours they will qualify for a Water Safari ticket.

We celebrate Literacy because it is a very important skill.

Upcoming Dates:

Dr. Lyman-Wright
Elementary Principal

"You may not think that your child's progress or lack of progress in early elementary school would have a major bearing on his/her later performance, but it does. According to the Annie E. Casey Foundation, students who are poor readers in the third grade have a higher likelihood of becoming high school dropouts. The sooner your child learns to read well, the more likely it is he or she will graduate high school, and hopefully college." <https://littleeggpublishing.com/articles/5-important-literacy-facts-dont-know/>"

MARCH IS MUSIC IN OUR SCHOOLS MONTH®

For nearly 40 years, March has been designated as Music In Our Schools Month ® (MIOSM®). Music has a lasting positive impact in our lives. The positive impact on music in the lives of our students lasts a lifetime. Therefore, the education and cultivation of music in our youngest members of society, our students, is paramount.

Every day, in classrooms and rehearsal rooms across our school district, music educators dedicate themselves to reaching all students with life-changing musical experiences. Parents, administrators, and the wider community often only see the wonderful results of music performances; however, we miss the months of practice and rehearsals and more importantly the learning process that takes place to make it all happen.

We encourage members in our community to acknowledge and celebrate music education as an essential part of every student's educational journey.

Sincerely,

The Beaver River Music Department
Ms. Tamara Fidler
Mr. Matthew McGrath
Mrs. Kendra Virkler

Jeff-Lewis County Music Teachers Association Bi-County Select Vocal Ensemble

Isaiah Virkler and Nathan Virkler were selected for this honor after auditioning at Watertown High School by singing a difficult version of the national anthem. The chorus was composed of 30 vocalists from the two counties. The conductor, Marvin Zehr, is a skilled musical artist and director, who always wants the best for whoever he is helping on their musical journey. He selected a wide variety of songs, such as a spiritual, Ain't no Winding in the Road, a jazz piece, Orange Colored Sky, a solemn piece, Things That Never Die, a classical French piece, Dirait-on, and a pop piece, A Flash of Time. The concert was held at Watertown High School on January 20, 2024. Congratulations!

BRCS Plans for the Solar Eclipse

Our students and the entire community have the incredible opportunity to experience a total solar eclipse on Monday, April 8, 2024. Plans are in place to involve our PK-12 students in a unique morning-long education experience. Teacher-directed interactive workshops will explore eye safety; model what causes an eclipse; consider literary and cultural responses to eclipses throughout history; and explore the impact of eclipses on living things. Problem solving challenges and initiative activities will invite creativity, fun and healthy competition into the mix. Students will be dismissed at 12:15 p.m. on April 8th.

In the afternoon, we encourage parents, their children, and all who are interested to return for an exciting community event. Informational and fun activities will engage participants in an eclipse-themed afternoon from 1:30 p.m. until 4:45 p.m. Community art, livestreamed images as it crosses the country, eclipse races, safe viewing options, and a celebratory atmosphere complete with Food Trucks are all part of the plan.

Watch for more eclipse information and developing news on these events on the BRCS website and Facebook page!

We hope to see you on April 8th.
